

The natural world leads the way.. but which are you?

Bears		hibernate	Don't disturb.. until it's all over
Cuckoos		get someone else to do the heavy lifting	I'll take whatever support comes my way
Dodos		don't realise their extinction has already happened	Back to normal any day now
Lemmings		stick uneasily with the herd	It can't be that bad, can it?
Ostriches		deny	Crisis.. what crisis
Salmon		return to the spawning ground	Time to create a new generation of possibilities
Squirrels		hoard the best for another day	I know this will come in..
Swallows		migrate to more suitable places	I'm off to where it's sunnier and more likely to create better outcomes
You?
